

2nd Writers' Conference
August 8th–9th, 2008 · Embassy Suites, Nashville, TN

Talent Show Registration Form

A talent show at a writers conference? How droll! But think, what a way to share some fun and creativity. Perhaps you love to sing, or have a bit of your book that would make for a marvelous dramatic reading or reader's theater. Now is the time to try out that skit you wrote, or just show off your juggling skills. Bound only by the limits of your creativity, come have fun, by yourself or with a group!

Please limit your performance to five minutes for a one-man show or ten minutes for a group. Because of time restraints and an effort to have variety, all registrations may not be allotted time on the stage. You will receive a confirmation email, and if your performance is accepted, you will be given a performance schedule.

Talent show forms will only be accepted if you are registered for the conference. The deadline for registering is July 9th, 2008.
